DECORATIONS UP FOR TWO EVENTS

FLAGS ON WHITE WAY POLES AND ELECTRIC SIGN.

H. S. MEET TOMORROW; K. OF C. NEXT WEEK

Preliminaries in Literary Contests in Afternoon and Finals at Night—Judges Announced.

Maryville citizens began to appreciate the fact today that the 1916 track meet and literary contests are right upon us, when flags were placed right upon the white way poles and other decorations were put in place today. A large welcome sign in electric lights will be placed across the front of the court house.

This work is being done through the entertainment committee of the Commercial club in honor of the high school visitors and the delegates to the state convention of the Knights of Columbus, who will be here next week.

The high school meet so far as the public is concerned will begin at 8 o'clock tomorrow night in the Normal auditorium, when the four girl declaimers, the four boy orators, the two boys and two girls in extemporaneous speaking who have won the preliminaries tomorrow afternoon will contest for the final honors.

The preliminaries were scheduled to start at 2 o'clock, but the list of entries has become so large that an effort will be made to get started at 1 o'clock if possible. The same plan of elimination for the final contest will be used this year, but it is probable that a division into squads will be imperative on account of the numbers by next year, according to Prof. H. P. Swinehart, secretary.

The contestants will meet in room 302 of the Normal building and draw for numbers. Twenty-five girls, twenty boys, and six each in the extemporaneous speaking will enter. The judges will then hear them in order, and at the end of the four hours they will select the four best in the declaiming and oratory and two each of the best in extemporaneous speaking.

Three Sets of Judges.

There will be a different set of judges for each event, and an entirely different group will judge the finals at night. The judges for the finals will not be announced until tomorrow. The judges for the preliminaries will be members of the Normal faculty, as follows:

For girls' declamation, H. A. Foster, H. H. Severin and Miss Beulah Brunner; for boys' orations, S. E. Davis, W. J. Osburn and Miss Fannie Hope; for extemporaneous, T. H. Cook, G. H. Colbert and H. A. Miller.

Since the oratory and declamation contests will take ten minutes to each speaker and the extemporaneous five minutes each, the program tomorrow night will last about two hours. As usual the orchestra of Central high school, St. Joseph, will furnish the music. Track events will start at 1:30 Saturday afternoon on Normal field and last until 5.

It is interesting to note that St. Joseph Central is not so confident of a winning team this year since reading of the records of Stone of Ridgeway and Mock of New Hampton. Both of these men are worth keeping an eye on Saturday, as their records in sectional meets already have broken Maryville meet records.

FULL HOUSE AT LASHER.

Bert Cooper Brought J. Kelly Wright Back in Record Time.

J. Kelley Wright gave his "Missouri" lecture to a crowded house last night at the Lasher school. He was brought back the six miles in twenty minutes last night by Bert Cooper and at that just barely caught his train east on the Wabash. Mr. Wright and Mr. Cooper were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Martin at supper last night.

MRS. DAVID L. DENNING DIES

Had Been Paralyzed Two Years—Golden Wedding Would Have Been July 3.

Mrs. David L. Denning, 74 years old, died this morning at her home on South Walnut street at 2:30 o'clock. She was stricken with paralysis two years ago and had been helpless since. Sunday morning she suffered a second stroke and gradually grew worse until death came.

Mrs. Denning was born in Lewis county, Missouri, and had lived in this state all of her life. She married Mr. Denning over 49 years ago, and if she had lived the aged couple would have celebrated their golden wedding anniversary July 3. Mr. Denning is 82 years old. When he came to Nodaway county he made government entry upon the land which he still owns. Mrs. Denning is survived by three daughters and one son. They are: Mrs. W. G. Lewis, Savannah; Mrs. D. Key, Holdenville, Okla.; Mrs. Eldon Lloyd, Maryville; R. L. Denning, St. Joseph; Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. Lloyd and Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Denning were with her at the time of her death.

3 MEN INTERVIEWED

NODAWAY STOCK DEALERS IN ST. JOSEPH JOURNAL.

PIG PROSPECTS ARE POOR

Vern and Clem Jeffers of Hopkins, Sherlock and Fagan of Maryville and Peter Bros. of Skidmore.

Vern and Clem Jeffers, extensive feeders and farmers of Hopkins, Mo., were in today with 2 loads of cattle and 1 load of hogs of their own feeding. There were 39 head of steers, weighing 1,346 pounds, which sold at $9 in the 2 cars of cattle, and the hogs sold at very pleasing prices. "We purchased the cattle last fall for a little less than 7c a pound, and have had them on feed only 100 days. The steers made a splendid gain in weight and there was a wide enough margin to make us a good profit," said Clem Jeffers. The Jeffers Bros. have been farming and feeding on a large scale for the last 2 years and have been very successful.

Sherlock & Fagan, old-time shippers from Maryville, Mo., were in today with a load each of cattle and hogs.

"There is very little stock left in my neighborhood," said Joe Sherlock, "and from present prospects it seems that the pig crop will be away below normal. About the average number of sows were held, but the litters are small and there seems to be quite a bit of sickness among them. On the average the sow is raising only 1 or 2 pigs out of her whole litter."

Good Year for Planting.

"We have had a very favorable season for putting in spring crops," declared L. Peter, of Peter Bros., extensive farmers and feeders of Skidmore, Mo., who was here yesterday with a load of steers which sold at $8.90. "Some corn went into the ground last week, but the rain Sunday checked planting temporarily. A large acreage of land has been plowed preparatory to being put in corn, and as soon as the weather clears up it becomes warmer planting will go ahead with a rush. Oats and fall wheat are coming along fine. The rain Sunday will help these crops and also greatly benefit pastures and meadows. All in all we are going into May with very encouraging crop prospects."—St. Joseph Stock Yards Journal.

CROWDS LIKED BILLIE

Miss Burke Delightful in "Peggy" Which Is Showing at Fern Tonight Again.

Every seat in the Fern theatre was occupied last night and the hundreds were all delighted with the acting of Billie Burke. The scenario of "Peggy" had been written with her in mind and she certainly fitted it well.

Although the film seemed somewhat slow in parts, it was prepared with the purpose of giving little Miss Burke a chance to pose. Most of the reels will be shown upon the fast machine tonight. James Ells, manager, says that the slow machine was recommended by the Triangle company.

An orchestra playing "incidental" music to correspond to each scene was a real pleasure in the show also. The film will be shown at the Fern again tonight. Another good crowd saw the matinee today. Mr. Ells announces that a special film with incidental orchestra music will be a Wednesday feature hereafter.

SHUTS MALTBY ROAD

WILSON RATIFIES IT

VACATING ORDER MADE BY COUNTY COURT YESTERDAY.

SCOTT-OBREGON AGREEMENT SATISFACTORY TO HIM.

PROCTOR NAMED TRUSTEE FOR FULL CO-OPERATION

Charles A. Teason Loses in Petition for Jefferson Township Office—Weathermon Justice of Peace.

The Maltby road west of Dawson was vacated by order of the county court yesterday afternoon late. The judges held that all of the arguments by the petitioners were good and valid.

The chief argument by the remonstrators was that it would interfere with children going to school but this was not upheld by the fact that school children have to go one-half-mile east or west anyway.

The Maltby home, which is the only house along that mile of road is old and has few improvements upon the place so the court held that it would be little hardship for Mr. Maltby to move to the road either on the north or south of his land, if he desires. The cost of the hearing, about $30, will be paid by the remonstrators.

George C. Weathermon of Guilford, was appointed Justice of the Peace of Washington township to take the place of W. H. Watson, who died recently. His petition was the only one presented. It was headed by Carl Wray, J. E. Brittain and J. L. Porter. O. R. Proctor won the office of trustee of Jefferson township over Charles A. Teason to succeed Joseph A. Voelker who became postmaster of Clyde and resigned as trustee. Mr. Proctor's petition for the appointment by the county court, was headed by J. R. and L. F. Grownay and John Holtman and contained sixty-one names. Mr. Teason's petition contained twenty-five names and was headed by J. J. Enis, Julius A. Klaas and Joseph A. Voelker.

A pool hall license for the next six months was granted to Yeo Brothers of Maryville. The rest of the day was spent in approving bills and other routine business.

OBIDIAH STURGEON DEAD

Man of 85 Had Lived in or Near Hopkins for More Than 50 Years.

Obidiah Sturgeon died at the home of his son, Hebron Sturgeon, in Hopkins this morning. Pneumonia was the direct cause of his death. He had not been in good health for some time but was ill with pneumonia only a few days.

Mr. Sturgeon was 85 years old. He had lived in Nodaway county, near and in Hopkins, for 50 years. His wife died several years ago, and he has made his home since then with his son. He is survived by three sons and two daughters. The funeral arrangements have not been made.

Confer on Scott's Report.

Washington, May 4.—Secretary of War Baker made an appointment to confer with President Wilson during the day to consider the report of General Scott.

Secretary Baker said he "expected" that there would be another conference at the border, but declined to make public any part of the Scott report until approved by the president. He didn't deny the press dispatches from El Paso accurately forecasted its contents.

At the end of a half hour's conference with the president, Secretary Baker announced that further instructions would be sent to General Scott at once.

He refused to say what the instructions contain, but it is believed that the yare in the form of a ratification of the agreement between Scott and Obregon. Baker was absolutely silent on this point.

Although Secretary Baker seemed to intimate that the forecast of the agreement published yesterday was correct, the impression in political circles is strong that no time limit was set as to when the Americans were to leave Mexico.

CHURCH APPEALS FOR EUROPE SOON

WEEK BEFORE MEMORIAL SUNDAY FOR RELIEF.

UNDER THE DIRECTION OF FEDERAL COUNCIL

Resolution to President Wilson Who Probably Will Issue Proclamation for Co-operation.

The President, White House, Washington, D. C.

Sir:—At a special meeting of the Executive committee consisting of the official representatives of the thirty constituent bodies of the Federal council of the Churches of Christ in America, held on April 19th, the following action was taken:

Preamble.

Inasmuch as the condition of suffering and need in the nations directly affected by the war in Europe and Asia are appalling beyond description, and are not known to the masses of our people, who have not been sufficiently informed concerning the facts to inspire them to interest or action; and since the inability of the nations, strained as they are, to meet these needs, constitutes an urgent appeal to the neutral nations, and especially to the people of the United States, to use their utmost endeavors to bring relief whenever possible to all who suffer; therefore

Resolved, That the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America while recognizing the various relief organizations already at work, and having no purpose save that of co-operation, believes that the time has come for a relief movement of such magnitude as shall fittingly recognize the obligation of Christianity to respond to all human need and emphasize to all the world the moral and spiritual consciousness and the Christian and philanthropic spirit of the American people.

1. That the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America initiate a nation-wide movement for the relief of suffering in Europe and Asia growing out of conditions created by the war.
2. That the movement shall be under the leadership and inspiration of the churches, a preeminently religious appeal to the people through the churches and religious orders and organizations, endeavoring to arouse among all classes the sentiment of personal self-sacrifice.

Week Preceding Memorial Sunday

3. That the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America suggest for the inauguration of the movement the week preceding Memorial Sunday for the solicitation of funds for the suffering people of Europe and Asia; that the President of the United States be requested to invite all the churches and religious organizations of the United States to set apart Memorial Sunday, May 28, 1916, for the consideration of the widespread sorrows of the peoples and for most generous contributions to relieve the suffering, and that a delegation be appointed to present in person this proposal to the President of the United States.

4. That the movement be unrestricted in its appeal both in respect to the securing of funds and in the distribution of relief and that when individuals, churches, and other organizations desire, they may designate their preference for the use of funds.
5. That the administration hereafter to be appointed shall follow up these initial appeals so long as necessity may exist or until the Executive Committee shall otherwise order.

The President of the Federal Council, the General Secretary and the Chairman of the Executive Committee with others to be associated with them were appointed as the delegation to wait upon the President of the United States.

We therefore hereby convey to you in behalf of the Federal Council and its constituent bodies this important memorial, believing that this movement, while appropriately initiated by the churches, should through your cooperation become a nation-wide movement reaching all the people.

Respectfully yours,

FEWER KANSAS FARMERS.

There Are Not So Many Now as Ten Years Ago.

Abilene, Kan.—Fewer people are engaged in agricultural pursuits in Kansas now than ten years ago, according to J. C. Mohler, secretary of the state board of agriculture.

"In 1895 of those engaged in all occupations 55 per cent were in agriculture," he declared, "and in 1905 50 per cent and in 1915 46 per cent. It is a very discouraging sign in a state like Kansas, where agriculture is the overshadowing industry, that fewer instead of more people are engaging in it."

Some of the serious problems that must be solved in Kansas are those of the home seeker, the ownership of lands, employment of capital, better farming and the improvement of conditions of rural life, Mr. Mohler asserted.

Artistic Hands, Out of a Job, Refuses to Shovel Coal.

Montclair, N. J.—If a man has "piano fingers" and is offered a job on a coal wagon should he accept the job to support his wife and six children, or should a philanthropic society place him in some position where his digital refinement would not be affected by manual labor?

This is one of the questions proposed in the annual report of Mrs. Nettie E. Patterson, superintendent of the Altruist society. Mrs. Patterson mentions the case in referring to the difficulties that confront the society. She said that a man when offered a place on the coal wagon refused, saying he had been told he had "piano fingers" and did not wish to spoil them.

UNABLE TO FIND A WIFE.

Farmer Has Been Searching Sixteen Years, but So Far Has Failed.

Bridgeport, Conn.—Joseph Cronan, a farmer of Derby, announced that he had searched forty-two states and two countries of Europe and that, while in a receptive mood, he had not found a girl suitable to be his spouse.

"I am strictly temperate, a healthy and strong farmer, and I have been searching sixteen years for the right kind of a wife," he declared. "I have yet to find the woman, and I wish the newspapers would help me."

SMALL CHICKS GROW AT ENORMOUS RATE.

FULL MUSCLE AND BONE

Child Adding in Same Proportion Would Weigh 112 Pounds at 14 Weeks Old.

Growing chicks require an abundance of food which contains muscle and bone making material. Other things being equal, failure to grow can be attributed to an insufficient food supply, a lack of muscle making food or too little mineral matter such as bone meal.

A chick grows at an enormous rate. At the University of Missouri, it was found that a chick weighed at 14 weeks just sixteen times what it did when hatched. If an infant grew as fast, a baby weighing seven pounds at birth would weigh 112 pounds when 14 weeks old. This shows that chicks should be fed liberally and emphasizes the importance of selecting the right kind of food.

Because of the remainder of the yoke sack being drawn into the body at hatching, liberal feeding is not advisable until after the first week. The chick can live for nearly a week on the supply of food it had before hatching. Liberal feeding during this time would retard the absorption of this yoke sack and might cause trouble.

The chick can live for nearly a week on the supply of food it had before hatching. Liberal feeding during this time would retard the absorption of this yoke sack and might cause trouble.

James Lane, who has been farming in Nodaway county for 32 years, is quoted as saying that good pasture for live stock is earlier this year than ever before in his experience.

The Moerly Democrat is authority for the statement that the people of that city are especially interested in the career of Pancho Villa, because one of his ex-wives was once the wife of a Moerly preacher. Mrs. Fielder, the widow of a Methodist preacher, who was stricken with paralysis in his church pulpit some years ago, started on a matrimonial career which ran: one, two, three, Villa; but she isn't Mrs. Villa any more.

The Harrison County Woman's association last week announced a new contest in vegetable and flower gardens for the boys and girls of the county. About $20 in cash prizes will be awarded. The flower seeds will be furnished by the association.

The Mound City mill has just shipped another big order of cornmeal for the rolled oats. When milk is not fed fifteen pounds of fine beef scrap and one part of bone meal should be added to every 100 pounds of the mixture. The bone meal will prevent leg weakness. If the chicks are confined, finely cut green grass, alfalfa leaves, onions, etc., will keep the bowels loose and the chick healthy.

Gradually the finer grains can be replaced by coarser. The dry mash can remain as above. All the feed can be placed in hoppers where the chicks may help themselves. Fine grit should always be available. When the chicks have passed the danger point a wet mash daily at about 4 p. m. will induce them to eat more and will result in a more rapid growth.

Eggs can be fed raw by stirring one in some dry feed and feeding this mixture to about sixty chicks. At all times the food must be clean and free from mustiness or digestive troubles are sure to result. The keeping of the quarters clean and sweet is equally important.

Believing that congress is now practically committed in principle to the policy of federal participation in good roads construction, this movement has been undertaken to direct such participation along the most scientific and economic lines. The form of resolution offered to the legislatures and chambers of commerce provides that the National Highways Commission shall survey and locate a system of highways connecting all state highway systems by inter-state trunk lines, thus providing a national system of highways which will correlate the state systems just as the state systems in thirty-one states of the Union now correlate and bring to their highest value the county and township systems.

In presenting the resolutions the National Highways Association has advanced the argument that only by providing for some such scientific location of the highways on which federal funds are to be expended can the evils of the "pork-barrel" system of legislation be avoided.

With every "good roads" measure that is introduced in congress it is made evident that the trend is away from "pork" and toward a method of federal participation which will secure the most efficient administration of the work and the most economic results. Officers of the National Highways Association express their confidence that, with the tide set in their direction, they will succeed in their effort to have federal participation in this work guided and controlled by the counsels of an expert commission.

ASKS ROAD COMMISSIONHIGHWAYS ASSOCIATION SEEKS NATIONAL BODY.

Washington, May 4.—Resolutions urging Congress to create a National Highways Commission to investigate and report upon the most economic and beneficial method for the Federal government to participate in the building of good roads are being submitted by the National Highways Association to state legislatures, chambers of commerce and civic organizations in all sections of the country.

Believing that congress is now practically committed in principle to the policy of federal participation in good roads construction, this movement has been undertaken to direct such participation along the most scientific and economic lines. The form of resolution offered to the legislatures and chambers of commerce provides that the National Highways Commission shall survey and locate a system of highways connecting all state highway systems by inter-state trunk lines, thus providing a national system of highways which will correlate the state systems just as the state systems in thirty-one states of the Union now correlate and bring to their highest value the county and township systems.

In presenting the resolutions the National Highways Association has advanced the argument that only by providing for some such scientific location of the highways on which federal funds are to be expended can the evils of the "pork-barrel" system of legislation be avoided.

With every "good roads" measure that is introduced in congress it is made evident that the trend is away from "pork" and toward a method of federal participation which will secure the most efficient administration of the work and the most economic results. Officers of the National Highways Association express their confidence that, with the tide set in their direction, they will succeed in their effort to have federal participation in this work guided and controlled by the counsels of an expert commission.

AN ODD ADDING MACHINE

Strapped to Top of Motorcycle of Surveyors Taking Data for Geodetic Work in Florida.

The precise leveling parties in charge of J. H. Peters and G. D. Cowie of the United States coast and geodetic survey, operating in Indiana and Florida, respectively, are recording the readings of the level rods on adding machines as the work progresses.

The machine is strapped to the top of a motor velocipede on which the party goes to and from the working ground. The leveling is done along railroads, and the car is moved forward with the observer as the work progresses. The adding machines are now being used in the field for the first time in such work, and the reports received at the survey office in Washington show that recording can be done more quickly and with less likelihood of errors than when the recorder used the old method of entering the observations in a record book.

The back sights and fore sights are recorded separately by the machine in parallel columns. The sums of these columns may be obtained by simply pulling a lever. The difference between these two sums is the difference in elevation between the starting and ending bench marks of the line. The machine is of the listing type, so that it gives a permanent record of the observations on the reel of paper.

With every "good roads" measure that is introduced in congress it is made evident that the trend is away from "pork" and toward a method of federal participation which will secure the most efficient administration of the work and the most economic results. Officers of the National Highways Association express their confidence that, with the tide set in their direction, they will succeed in their effort to have federal participation in this work guided and controlled by the counsels of an expert commission.

three tons and a half to the state hospital at Clarinda, Ia. This makes ten tons of Missouri cornmeal to this Iowa institution within the past few months, says the Mound City News-Jeffersonian.

Cave J. Hunt, a pioneer Holt county banker, of late years cashier of the Citizens bank at Oregon, died in a Kansas City hospital on April 23, in his 67th year. Mr. Hunt, before beginning his career as a banker at Fort City and Oregon, served for a time as railway mail clerk on the Tarkio Valley branch of the Burlington between Clarinda, Ia., and Corning, Mo.

Seven high school boys at Oregon were out for an auto ride just preceding the Savannah-Oregon high school baseball game, on April 25, when the car struck an embankment at a short turn in the road and turned over, killing one boy, Frank Thatcher, and injuring his brother, Robert, both sons of Dr. and Mrs. J. T. Thatcher of Oregon.

A $75 plate glass window in the front of the Morehouse & Co. hardware store at Burlington Junction was blown in and completely shattered by one of the recent April winds.

In the annual peace state oratorical contest at Liberty, last week, the first honors were won by Guy V. Price, representative of William Jewell college. Second place was awarded to Rush H. Limbaugh of the University of Missouri, and third to Orland K. Armstrong of Drury college.

The supervisors of the Nishnabotna drainage district in Atchison county have just completed arrangements with the Burlington Railway company for crossing the railroad right-of-way with the new ditch. The Tarkio Avalanche is authority for the statement that the new bridge and other changes made necessary will cost the Burlington $15,000, of which the drainage district will pay $7,000 and the railroad the remainder, in consideration of the benefits to the roadbed.

The Tarkio Avalanche is shocked to find the likeness of one of its former employees in the rogue's gallery, fully qualified to bear the titles of pirate, murderer, polygamist. George Dittmar, a young printer, about 21 years of age, operated the junior linotype machine for the Avalanche during the summer of 1914. He failed to develop sufficient speed, however, and was sent on his way. Now comes the news from Chicago that he has deserted his young wife in that city, eloped with a 14-year-old Panama girl from the carnival zone, and accompanied by still another woman, a native of Columbia or Venezuela, has chartered a small schooner murdered the captain, terrorized the crew of two men and is roaming the Caribbean sea, pursued by the new bridge and other changes made necessary will cost the Burlington $15,000, of which the drainage district will pay $7,000 and the railroad the remainder, in consideration of the benefits to the roadbed.

James Lane, who has been farming in Nodaway county for 32 years, is quoted as saying that good pasture for live stock is earlier this year than ever before in his experience.

The Moerly Democrat is authority for the statement that the people of that city are especially interested in the career of Pancho Villa, because one of his ex-wives was once the wife of a Moerly preacher. Mrs. Fielder, the widow of a Methodist preacher, who was stricken with paralysis in his church pulpit some years ago, started on a matrimonial career which ran: one, two, three, Villa; but she isn't Mrs. Villa any more.

The Harrison County Woman's association last week announced a new contest in vegetable and flower gardens for the boys and girls of the county. About $20 in cash prizes will be awarded. The flower seeds will be furnished by the association.

The Mound City mill has just shipped another big order of cornmeal for the rolled oats. When milk is not fed fifteen pounds of fine beef scrap and one part of bone meal should be added to every 100 pounds of the mixture. The bone meal will prevent leg weakness. If the chicks are confined, finely cut green grass, alfalfa leaves, onions, etc., will keep the bowels loose and the chick healthy.

Gradually the finer grains can be replaced by coarser. The dry mash can remain as above. All the feed can be placed in hoppers where the chicks may help themselves. Fine grit should always be available. When the chicks have passed the danger point a wet mash daily at about 4 p. m. will induce them to eat more and will result in a more rapid growth.

Eggs can be fed raw by stirring one in some dry feed and feeding this mixture to about sixty chicks. At all times the food must be clean and free from mustiness or digestive troubles are sure to result. The keeping of the quarters clean and sweet is equally important.

The Savannah Reporter prints nine columns of interesting letters from former Andrew county persons now living in other places. Nine states are represented in this first installment of the Reporter's old home letters.

The contract for the paving of several streets at Maysville with vitrified paving brick was awarded last Monday night to the Metropolitan Paving company of St. Joseph at $1.95 a square yard, including the gutter. Work will begin inside of thirty days, says the DeKalb County Herald.

Over at Bridgeport one night last week the home of Bud Rice and family burned. It was by heroic effort that Mr. Rice saved the children, all of whom were asleep upstairs, while the parents slept in a downstairs room. Mr. Rice had to pass through a part of the fire to reach them, says the Bridgeport correspondent of the Belpre Republican. He dropped them out of a window and then jumped just in time to escape the falling roof.

Mrs. Bulla, an Albany woman, although 95 years of age, continues to make semi-annual pilgrimages between the homes of her sons, A. J. Bulla of Albany and Rev. C. D. Bulla of Nashville, Tenn. She returned last week from spending the winter in the latter place and the Albany Capital reports that she still enjoys traveling and declares that she could make the trip alone.

Robert Eads of Lock Springs is in the Daviess county jail awaiting trial for the killing of Geo. W. Buster, at Lock Springs, on April 21. It is the old, old story of too much whisky, says the Gallatin North Missourian. The assault is said to have been without provocation, Eads striking Buster over the head with a single-tree. The Lock Springs correspondent in the North Missourian says: "Though Daviess county is dry, our neighbor, Chillicothe, keeps all the surrounding country well supplied with the murderous stuff. Now at least two lives in our little community are ruined because of this damnable traffic—to say nothing of the heartaches of relatives and friends."

Clinton county has a wild goose farmer—Millard Whitson—who has a flock of 250 domesticated wild geese.

These birds produce three pickings of feathers each year, the total amount from each bird being about two pounds, says the Lathrop Optimist.

The feathers sell readily at 75 cents a pound and there is a lively demand for the mature birds at $5 a pair. Mr. Whitson has maintained this remarkable flock for several years and has made some interesting observations of their habits. Just now he has folks guessing with the prediction of a wet season. He says the wild geese are infallible weather prophets. Ordinarily they build their nests near the bed of a creek which runs through his place. Last year they placed them about half way up the banks, and as everybody knows it turned out to be a wet season. And this spring, says Mr. Whitson, the geese are locating their homes on top of the banks, so look out for high water.

Trenton voted out the saloons in 1914. Now comes the Trenton Republican with some interesting figures on the city's finances before and after the city's going dry. In 1912 the funds of the city totaled $19,165; and in 1916, $25,315. In 1912 there were 194 merchant licenses issued in the county; in 1916, 234. The last two or three years have witnessed more water works improvements in Trenton than the ten years preceding.

The Richmond Missourian contains the interesting story of Bishop Tucker, the veteran colored preacher of north Missouri, who resides in that city. Bishop Tucker has been preaching for fifty years and is now in his 76th year. He was born in slavery

'Chain' Tires

Added Mileage in these Two Rugged Chains

By the time the two rugged anti-skid chains of rubber running 'round the tread are finally worn down, you have had your mileage in full and liberal measure.

Then you have the equivalent of a good, plain tread tire still to wear out—for your added mileage.

That is why 'Chain' Treads give the low mileage cost for which they are famous.

Besides—'Chain' Treads are the most efficient, moderate-priced anti-skids in the world.

The 'Chain' is one of the five United States 'Balanced' Tires which meet every motoring condition of price and use.

Ask the nearest United States Tire Dealer for your copy of the booklet, "Judging Tires," which tells how to choose the particular tire to suit your needs.

NEW BILL CONSTITUTIONAL

CHILD LABOR MEASURE WILL STAND TEST.

Keating Would Break Up Traffic in "Infants" by Stopping Interstate Commerce.

The senate committee on Interstate Commerce has just published its report on the Keating child labor bill and in so doing has urged the passage of the bill on the ground that it is necessary, reasonable and constitutional.

In summarizing the committee's

"The committee feels not only that the constitutionality of the bill is justified by the decisions cited, but that its enactment is demanded by the practical inability on the part of the States so to legislate as to completely and effectively stamp out what is rightly considered to be a national evil. So long as there is a single state which for selfish or other reasons fail to enact effective child labor legislation, it is beyond the power of every other state to protect effectively its own producers and manufacturers against what may be considered unfair competition of the producers and manufacturers of that state, or to protect its consumers against unwittingly patronizing those who exploit the childhood of the country. This is true because the states have delegated to congress the power to regulate interstate commerce, and have thus deprived themselves of the power to prohibit the sale within their own borders of products of the child labor of other states."

The report explains briefly the amendments to the bill and states that these changes have made it a more enforceable, reasonable measure.

The supporters of the bill feel that the report is so concise and strong that it will do a great deal to prove to the senate that the Keating bill must not be slowed under by the preparedness and other issues. Indeed it is thought that the senate committee has taken this opportunity to remind the senate that child labor legislation is in itself a preparedness measure for the report says in so many words, "the evidence is overwhelming that unregulated child labor does not promote a healthy citizenship, that it tends to the deterioration of the race physically. When we are dealing with such a subject as the protection of children from the known consequences of child labor, we are dealing with a helpless class of our population whose neglect defeats the very success of democracy itself."

TEACHERS JOIN UNIONS

Washington Instructors Organize and Unite With American Federation of Labor.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Washington, May 4.—School teachers of the District of Columbia are today arranging details of their plans to form a union of the entire teaching force of the district under the American Federation of Labor. Addresses were made at their meeting in Central high school by Assistant Secretary of Labor Louis F. Post and others.

The plan for a general union grew out of the formation recently of a union of high school teachers. The union being formed today is that of teachers of graded schools, with a question as to whether teachers of normal schools shall be included. A membership of 1,000 is expected.

Excelsior Springs is to have a $10,000 Carnegie Library, and work on the structure is now well advanced.

On May 8, the Gallatin commercial club will serve a free dinner to every man who rides a road drag into town that day.

Anselm Schumacher left last evening for a several days visit in St. Joseph and Kansas City.

DOG HAS LUXURY.

Lives in a Fifteen Room House in Boston and Has Valet.

DAILY FOOD ALLOWANCE $1.50

Jap Sees That Large Bed Is Made Smoothly, That He Gets His Bath and Medicine and Awakes Him For a Tramp in the Woods.

Boston.—Few persons in Greater Boston know that Cohasset is the abode of royalty.

Yet down in Cohasset, off beautiful Jerusalem road, high up on a great estate, in a fifteen room house, with a splendid big bed for himself, with an allowance of $1.50 a day for meals and with a Japanese valet to attend him night and day, lives his imperial highness Prince, a monster Great Dane dog.

The palace of Prince is situated on an eminence. Far above it towers the residence of Ernest G. Howes, who lives in winter on Commonwealth avenue and who is a wealthy Boston man. He is graciously permitted by H. I. M. to occupy one of the finest homes in Cohasset, just above Prince's palace.

This is in return for a favor done Prince by Mr. Howes. Mr. Howes, while still in his early days of youth, purchased him. Though the base mercantile transaction must have hurt Prince's dog heart, he never minded and swallowed the humiliation with royal fortitude and regal philosophy. Mr. Howes installed him in the palace just below, and Prince, out of gratitude, has permitted Mr. Howes' residence near him ever since. This was about a year and a half ago.

Should you desire an audience with his majesty an interview first with one Toko Kobe, valet, is desirable. In fact, the prince's valet is quite talkative in regard to his majesty's tastes and customs.

"It is pleasant to know that Prince likes one," said the reporter. "What does he usually desire for a repast?" he asked, with some apprehension.

"Ah, the expense is great, sometimes $10 in the month for meat alone and only the best."

"You provide?"

"Yes; each day I travel to the town to purchase provisions. I buy the best of meat. Cost it 22 cents or 25 cents, it does not matter if it is only good. He eats sometimes more, sometimes less, than two and one-half pounds each day."

"And besides?"

"He is very fond of bone—just bone. Few people care for bone, but he likes it. I expend, it may be, 10 cents, 13 cents, 20 cents, daily for bone. But that is not all. Speaking of the table, he requires some fifty to sixty pounds of dog biscuit each month, for he is also very fond of dog biscuit. That is most expensive. I have paid 10 cents, even more, for each pound of dog biscuit that goes upon the table."

"He will now go to the supper. Following as he goes to the bath, for he is most carefully groomed," said the Hon. Kobe, while the reporter thought of what they say about some folks' aversion to bathing.

"After the bath," continued the Hon. Kobe, leading H. I. M. into the antechamber, then into the interior of the palace, "he wanders about the house—there are actually more than fifteen apartments in it—and then when he desires he retires. It is my duty to see that the bath water is not too hot nor too cold; that he receives the medicines prescribed by the physician; that the bed is made properly and smoothly, the linen changed and the lights extinguished. I awake him in the morning, bathe him and give breakfast, after which he goes for a tramp in the woods, usually attended by me. Thus the day passes and keeps me very preoccupied. As Mr. Howes had no other place at Prince's disposal, he has kept this house open through the winter season especially for Prince."

JOURNEY OF AN EGG.

Consumer Paid 20 Cents a Dozen More Than Producer Got.

Russell, Kan.—A. J. Olson, a Russell county farmer, who sells hundreds of dozens of eggs annually, recently wrote on an egg a request for the consumer to write him and inform him where the egg was purchased at retail and what the cost was.

Olson sold his product to a Russell dealer for 25 cents a dozen. The eggs were then shipped to Ellsworth, from where they were shipped to Pendleton, Ore., by express.

The Oregon retail merchant paid 34½ cents a dozen, and they were retailed at 45 cents, that being the price paid by the woman in Oregon who broke the egg bearing Olson's letter. Olson received a letter from her this week, and she gave the details of the egg's career and end in the far northwest.

Trolling, Caught Baby Seal.

Portland, Ore.—A baby white seal, said to be a rare specimen, was presented to the city park zoo here recently, the gift of United States Deputy Marshal Frank T. Berry. The seal was caught with a spoon hook in the Sluslaw river, near Florence, Ore., while Berry was trolling for trout.

Dog Swallows Hatpin.

Pittsburgh.—A hatpin seven inches long has been removed from the stomach of Klink, a Boston terrier belonging to Miss Alice Stewart of Williamsburg, by a surgeon. The dog had been ill for several days, and an operation was decided upon. The pin lay lengthwise in the dog's stomach.

MORGAN FITS BILL

NOT TOO LIGHT OR TOO HEAVY, SAYS G. J. GATES.

BEST FOR FARM WORK

No Need to Start New "Wagon Horse" Type, Thinks Ravenwood Man.

To the Missouri Ruralist: I read an article in the Missouri Ruralist requesting others to write what they thought about starting a new type of horses, called wagon horse; a horse between the extra large one and the small roaster. This would be the horse for the farmer, but we think, in the Morgan we have it without starting a new type. We have a Morgan stallion and two registered mares; have worked the mares for the last two years and know that they are the ideal horse for the farmer. Morgans have the endurance and disposition that makes them all right.

Morgans weigh from 1,000 to 1,250 pounds. We know by experience that the heavy horse has no place on the medium sized farm, where a person has only about two months work all put together for a horse, and the rest of the time is just "eating his head off." Right here is where the smaller, tougher horse comes in. He can live on about half what it takes for the larger one, do the same work and keep better flesh. How many large loads does the average farmer haul, that he couldn't have hauled in less loads if he was afraid of "stalling" a smaller team? Would it be enough to pay for the extra feed the larger horse would take?

I have hauled 2,500 pounds of feed with our team and went right along on bad roads. That is a large enough load. Take your large team in hot weather and the Morgans can wear out two teams of extra large horses and not feel the heat as badly. You can take your common roaster and they can stand more than the larger horse, but they don't compare with the Morgan as they are built altogether different. In the Morgan you have a horse that can do all the work required around a farm, and then when you want to go out on the road they will step right along with the road horses. Morgans are not subject to blemishes as much as the large horses. It is mighty hard to find one of the larger horses without some kind of a blemish.

The government has at least one Morgan breeding farm, and I think, two. They raise Morgans for the army as they know that they are all right. Just ask your old neighbors what they think of the old Morgan horse. They will say it was the best horse they ever had. We would get more Morgans in place of other heavy horses we have now, but they are scarce to find and those that have them don't want to part with them. Let us hear from others regarding the horses they think is the best all purpose horse for the man who owns a medium size farm.

ELLISON'S DECISION LOSS

STATE POORER BY HIS RETIRING, SAYS GAZETTE.

Three Brothers Have Made Name Synonym for Justice, Says St. Joseph Paper.

The decision of Judge W. C. Ellison of Maryville to retire from the circuit bench of the Fourth Missouri judicial circuit will be learned with regret by all northwest Missouri people who have noted the splendid work of that jurist. There will be added sorrow that ill health causes Judge Ellison to take this step.

For twelve years he has been at the head of the fourth judicial district. No able, no more impartial magistrate has been known to the Missouri bench in that time. While Judge Ellison is a Democrat, it is a tribute to his character that his first election was made possible by the support of both parties, and his second term came to him by a yet larger bipartisan vote. His years of service in the courts of his circuit have in every respect justified the confidence thus shown in him.

Judge Ellison is a brother of Judge James Ellison of the Kansas City court of appeals. Another brother was the late Judge Andrew Ellison, also on the fourth judicial circuit in earlier years. These three men have added much to the luster of the Missouri bench. They have made the family name a synonym for thorough justice in the interpretation of law. The state is a loser when a magistrate of this type takes leave of the bench.—St. Joseph Gazette.

SPECIAL SERVICES FOR MEN

The Rev. J. H. Weaver Will Preach on Civic Obligations at Hopkins Presbyterian Church.

At the Hopkins Presbyterian church next Sabbath there will be special services. Subject in the morning will be "Moral Obligations Three-Fold."

Evening, "Sermon to Men."

While we would like very much to have present at the morning service all men and civil officers, as a part of the morning sermon will be directed in the line of obligations of the civil magistrate to the people, we plead especially for the men to be present at the evening service.

There will be nothing in the sermon to men that the most refined and cultured lady can object to. So while we want the men especially to be present, we would also be glad to have both men and women present, young and old.

J. H. WEAVER, Pastor.

Prune and Shape Young Fruit and Results Will Repay Care.
Some Orchard Hints.

Train up a fruit tree in the way it should go and when it is old it will not depart from it. It is easy and cheap to shape a young fruit tree so it will always have good form; it is difficult and expensive to shape an old fruit tree that has been neglected.

The main framework of the fruit tree should be shaped in early spring.
Additional pruning should follow from time to time during the summer to further correct and guide the new growth.

JAPS LIKE OKUMA

Considered Representative Character of Oriental Great Men.

CONQUERS BY HIS DIGNITY.

Premier's Daring Intrepidity and Excellent Nerve and His Lofty Contempt of Death Have Won Praise Described by a Countryman.

Tokyo.—Should any Japanese be asked by a foreigner to point out a representative character of oriental great men Japan has at the present time he would be inclined to mention the old count Okuma, who is now leading the country during these memorable epochs of the world's war through the most perilous seas of international politics.

His magnanimity toward his personal enemy who had actually attempted on his very life, his liberality in material ways toward those who are indebted or apply to him for assistance, his unhesitating readiness to shoulder any amount of responsibility if by so doing there is the least prospect of promoting the public weal of the nation, the grateful treatment of old friends and early comrades irrespective of the heaven and earth difference probably created in the social position, the high standard of morality he observes in his private life, his sterling integrity and strict probity, never questioned during his long public career of fifty years, all these and others support the assumption that he ought to be classed among true and cultivated gentlemen of the first class standing.

His invincible optimism in the depth of the gloomiest and melancholdest situation in which a mortal can find himself, his infinite resourcefulness in the face of any hardy and intricate problems presented him for solution, his daring intrepidity and excellent nerve and his lofty contempt of death that more than once confronted him, his resolute firmness to carry out amid showers of attacks and reproach, even at the expense of his personal safety and reputation, those plans which he believed to concord with the permanent interest of the nation, the calm serenity of his mind and the tranquil equanimity of his heart and his open hearted simplicity and friendliness with any one who is honored with his interview testify to the undeniably fact that he is equipped with every necessary quality that goes to make up a great hero of oriental pattern.

He is a man who conquers by his personal dignity and his overwhelming sweep-it-allness, not by the ingenuity of his artificial skill or the elaborate device of fine machinations.

As an educationist also he is entitled to claim the first and foremost rank in view of the distinguished services he has tendered to the cause of education in Japan. The University of Waseda under his presidency and other various schools pertaining to it comprise more than 10,000 students, while the graduates might count more than ten times the number. The university, divided into four colleges (literature, law, technology and commerce), practically absorbs the greater portion of the students who do not enter the governmental institution. The Waseda middle school is inferior to no other similar institution, either private or public, in the excellency of the educational service as well as in the quality of the students produced. In the list of those successful applicants for the entrance examination of governmental higher schools the graduates from the Waseda middle school always occupy the most predominant proportion, a fact most strongly appealing to the confidence of the Japanese public.

Count Okuma is also a distinguished educationist in a different sense of the word. He is the great teacher of democracy. Having belonged to the minor Hizen clan by birth, his situation in the Japanese politics has always been somewhat isolated as compared with those potentates who enjoyed the effective support and protection of the influential clan of Satsuma and Chosho that took an active part in bringing about the restoration of the imperial power through the de-thronement of the Shogun. It is this very circumstance that made a democrat of him.

ROMANCE OF INK AND TYPE.

Young Woman's Contributions to Paper Result in Secret Wedding.

Nutley, N. J.—Announcement was made recently of the marriage of Miss Eleanor Bartlett Dale, daughter of Henry B. Dale, who was once a member of the firm of H. B. Claffin & Co., and Charles E. McCarthy of Newark.

Mr. McCarthy, who is on the editorial staff of the Newark Evening News, was introduced to Miss Dale, who was interested in social work, when she began contributing to the paper last November.

Miss Dale, who lived at 14 Elm place, was married to Mr. McCarthy in the rectory of St. Bridget's Catholic church, Newark, by the Rev. Samuel B. Hodges on March 23. News of the ceremony came as a surprise to Miss Dale's friends, who had understood that she was engaged to a young man from Nutley.

A New Back for an Old One—How a Maryville Resident Made a Bad Back Strong.

The back aches at times with a dull indescribable feeling, making you weary and restless; piercing pains shoot across the region of the kidneys, and again the loins are so lame that to stoop is agony. No use to rub or apply a plaster to the back if the kidneys are weak. You cannot reach the cause. Follow the example of this Maryville citizen.

T. J. Clayton, 308 S. Dewey street, Maryville, says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills for kidney complaint, and they greatly benefited me. I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Love & Gaugh's drug store, and since then I haven't had any serious kidney trouble. I take a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills when necessary, however, and never fail to get relief."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Clayton had. Foster-Milburn Co.,Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

ALLOWS PITTSBURGH PARKS FOR "SPOONING"

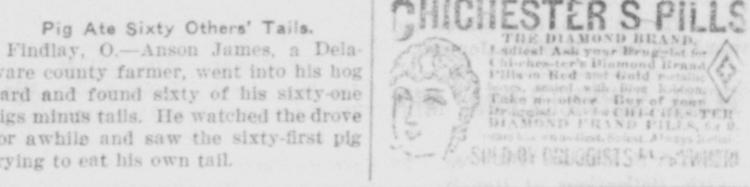

Superintendent of Police Extends Invitation to Boys and Girls and Married Persons Too.

Pittsburgh—"I want to extend an invitation to all of Pittsburgh's lovers, and married persons as well, to use the city parks for 'spooning' if they so desire, and, further, any policeman who attempts to interfere will be 'put on the books,' on the ground that he is not humane," announced Superintendent of Police Matthews recently.

"Yes, sir, you can say for me that 'spooning' goes in the parks," continued Superintendent Matthews. "It is in the spring of the year especially that young hearts turn to love affairs, and love leads to marriage and happy homes, so why not let the boys and girls 'spoon'?"
